Terms of Contract

1. For items that do not pass the Final Review, the client may choose to have FLIP send to Goodwill (GW) or the client may pick up (PU) these items. The following apply to the PU option:

- The storage period is 3 business days (no exceptions) and a storage fee is assessed
- FLIP does not provide details of rejected items.
- Client will be notified via text. If client can't receive text, the inventory report serves as notification
- A friend or family member is allowed to PU items.
- We don't keep dust bags/boxes. If you want these back you must request this at time of consignment

2. For each sale, the client's account receives the following:

- 40% commission for items $0 to $199.99
- 50% commission for items $200 - $499.99
- 60% commission for items $500 & up

3. Checks are mailed on a monthly basis. Checks are printed for $5 or more with a handling fee assessed. Account balance may be used as in-store credit.

4. To help FLIP offset the cost of processing inventory, a $5 fee will be assessed to the client's account for each inventory processing and a buyer's fee will be assessed to the buyer.

5. When necessary, FLIP will have items authenticated, altered and/or cleaned. These charges will be debited to client's account.

6. FLIP is not responsible for loss due to any reason.

7. Items passing the Final Review are put on the sales floor. An inventory list is emailed within 21 days.

8. The selling period is 100 active days on the sales floor. At the end of 100 days, FLIP will either continue to market or expire items. Expired items are donated to Goodwill; client retains tax write off privileges.

9. Policies are subject to change without notice.
