Walk Route Description

This walk around one of Torbay's three limestone plateaux gives great views of the Bay and the harbour. It travels through an area once formally cultivated by Victorian gardeners but now preserved as a wildlife conservation area.

Route

- From Daddyhole Plain follow the South West Coast Path towards Torquay Harbour.
- At the bottom of the steps just before Peaked Tor Cove the path divides.
- Continue along the Coast Path towards Torquay.
- At Parkhill Road, turn left towards the harbour.
- Cross the Millennium Bridge, turn right and walk around the harbour, turning right again onto the Strand.
- At the Mallock Clock Tower bear left to walk up Torwood Street.
- Turn right onto Meadfoot Road at the traffic lights.
- Bear left to stay on Meadfoot Road, past Meadfoot Lane, to the crossroads beyond.
- Turn right onto Parkhill Road again, and then left onto Daddyhole Road to return to the start point.
