ABOUT SALOME

New Orleans native, Kellie Daniels, founded SALOME in 2016 in her Blaydon studio in the U.K.

Inspiration for SALOME collections is found in the designer's Louisiana roots and the powerful natural gemstones themselves. Named after her mother, SALOME, the brand is also very much inspired by strong women and their stories.

SALOME aims to inspire and empower through natural gemstones; every piece is unique and has a story.

We support women across the world through the sales of our handcrafted jewellery, encouraging their visions of the future and their connection to arts and education.

A portion of all SALOME collections goes to select charities through our Helping Hands program - for stronger women around the world.

How do I love thee?

A love story to bridal jewellery by SALOME

ABOUT THE COLLECTION

Something Old, Something New, Something Borrowed and Something Blue. A blend of timeless SALOME classics, unique vintage treasures and new designs, this is the SALOME bridal collection.

An ode to classic wedding jewellery, this is a collection made with brides, bridesmaids and wedding guests in mind. From chic pearls to the soft sorbet tones of rose quartz and aquamarine, this collection aims to uplift and inspire women, day to night.

FEATURING TILLY WOOD

Kellie, founder and designer of SALOME, describes Tilly as a quintessential SALOME girl with her bright smile and bohemian spirit. Tilly is a wellbeing advocate, content creator, model and actor. Her elegant and bohemian style as well as magnetic personality and kind heart make her a truly perfect fit for SALOME's first bridal collection.

We have used some of the images from Tilly's actual wedding this year in the lookbook as all jewellery for bridal party and bride was custom made by SALOME for her special day.

*‘How do I love thee?
Let me count the ways.’*

PEARLS

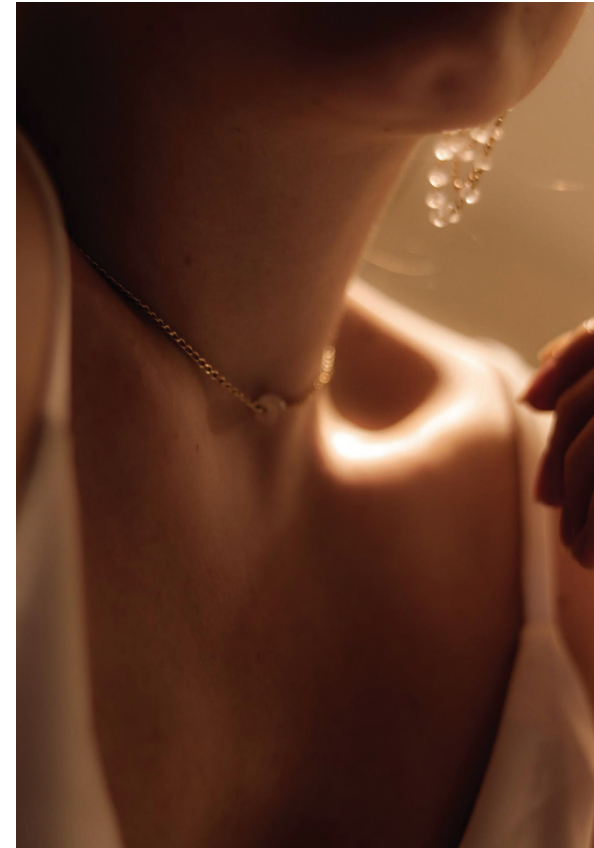

Symbolic of loyalty and purity, pearls have long been a timeless choice for brides of many cultures. Believed to balance emotions and bring inner wisdom due to their lunar elements, they are associated with good luck and wealth. Simple and effortlessly chic, pearls are classic, feminine and elegant. The perfect complement to every bride's dress.

ROSE QUARTZ

Powerful and the stone of universal love, Rose Quartz was long held as a sacred stone by ancient cultures. Shielding the wearer from emotional and environmental stress, it provides feelings of peace. Its delicate pink tones offer brides an ethereal touch and as it's associated with friendship and love it's the perfect gift for bridesmaids.

AQUAMARINE

Our Something Blue, Aquamarine takes its name from the sea, and is known for its relaxing properties. Believed to be the treasure of mermaids and sailors alike, it offers the wearer luck, protection and fearlessness. Its greenish blue tones offer a little touch of the Mediterranean to your special day, perfect for brides and bridesmaids alike.

'I love thee to the level of every day's most quiet need, by sun and candlelight.'
