Meet the Maker

The synthesis of passion and experience has fueled what I believe is my magnum opus: Blondery, a seasonal collection of handmade blondies I launched in November 2016. While I have held titles at some of the finest kitchens around the globe – including Sous-Chef at Bouchon Bakery and Executive Pastry Chef – the most fulfilling has been that of Founder, CEO, and creative Director of Blondery.

Blondery is a one-of-a-kind, virtual bakery that presents limited-release, seasonal blondie collections throughout the year to our nearly 10k (and counting) waitlist members. In short, we only create new flavors and restock when inspiration presents herself or your vocal love for a collection moves us. So, if you see a collection you want, grab it: if you love it, tell us and someone you love @blondery
