

V1:

One day at a time, bring you into line

Can you see the signs between these thin white lines?

Floating on a breeze so high-----watching all the warnings, not enough to wonder why.

V2:

First you lose yourself, then you're someone else

There's no place to touch what's been drowned deep inside

Floating on a breeze so high...knowing all the reasons, not enough to wonder why.

LU:

So bare your soul, bare your teeth, bare with me, you're underneath

But you must choose to lose this skin or I'll lose you forever.

CHOR:

Did you ever really think you could stay in the dark?

Did you ever realise that you'd fallen apart?

I'll help you help yourself ' back to the start

Cos you've got to know how lucky we are. (x2)

Solo over V chds

Floating on a breeze so high...seeing all the signals, not enough to wonder why.

LU:

So hold excuse, I'll hold you close, I'm holding court

But you must choose to lose this skin or I'll lose you forever.

CHOR x 3

Did you ever really think you could stay in the dark?

Did you ever realize that you'd fallen apart?

I'll help you help yourself ' back to the start (I want to help you back ' into my heart)

Cos you've got to know how lucky we are. (x2)

You must choose to lose this skin or I'll lose you forever.
