Cannalope (Sativa)

The high is intense but not overwhelming. It has a feel-good vibe that is suitable for social situations as well as doing work around the house. Fruity aromas like cantaloupe and lemon are pungent with a hint of skunkiness to round it all out. Delicious and delightful.

Sunny D OG (Indica)

Don't let this one's name fool you. This strain smells skunky with only hints of citrus fruit. A powerful indica that will knock you off your feet and onto the most comfy chair or couch around you. Great for late-night movies or for right before bed.

Biscotti (Hybrid)

If you're looking for a strain with an insanely delicious flavor, look no further. The high comes on with a rush of cerebral effects that launch your mind into a pure lifted state of unfocused bliss. This is followed by a coming body high washing over you, allowing you to kick back and relax.

Cartridges

Sour Diesel (Sativa)

An invigorating strain named after its pungent, diesel-like aroma. This fast-acting strain delivers energizing, cerebral effects that will make stress, pain, and depression fade away in long-lasting relief. A favorite among medical patients!

Gelato (Hybrid)

This sativa leaning hybrid will have you ready to socialize with its balanced, mellow high. Known to hit quickly, the most striking effect is a sense of altered perception, with some describing Gelato as having somewhat psychedelic effects. This strain's carefree elevation of mood can offer relief from headaches, anxiety, and depression.

Ace of Spades (Indica)

Ace of Spades has an earthy berry and citrus smell that carries over into the taste with distinctly lemony flavors. This one is a creeper, with body relaxation and pain relief setting in slowly, but surely, making it the perfect evening strain.
