

Pembrokeshire artist Sarah Jane Brown to exhibit her coastal landscapes during Wales Week in London

Pembrokeshire artist Sarah Jane Brown will show her work in London at the Exhibition of Contemporary Welsh Art next month. This event takes place at the London Welsh Centre each year during Wales Week in London and is available to see from Saturday, 4th, to Sunday, 5th March, 11 am - 5 pm.

There is a real buzz around this annual exhibition in the capital's Welsh cultural hub. The event showcases the best of Welsh art and forms part of an annual fortnight of cultural activities and events to celebrate everything great about Wales. Wales Week in London takes place from 19th February to 5th March and positively seeks to represent modern Wales in the capital.

"I'm excited to be part of the Welsh art exhibition again this year and to show my work in London," says Sarah Jane. "There's a great atmosphere during the event, and I'm looking forward to meeting other Welsh artists and chatting with visitors across the weekend."

Sarah Jane takes inspiration from the coastal landscape of her Pembrokeshire home, drawing on emotions experienced whilst walking the Pembrokeshire Coast National Park. Her paintings reflect internal landscapes through the beauty of the Pembrokeshire skies and countryside, the natural drama of the elements and the sea. Original oil paintings will be available to purchase at the exhibition.

A Private View and Drinks Reception takes place on Friday, 3rd March, to celebrate the exhibition opening. Attendance is invite-only, so contact Sarah Jane at sarah@sjbfineart.com if you want an invitation.

Sarah Jane studied Fine Art Painting at the West Wales School of the Arts. Since graduating with a first-class honours degree, her career as a professional artist has steadily gained momentum and recognition. She has exhibited widely across the UK, including at London's Mall Galleries with the Royal Society of Marine Artists and the Royal Cambrian Academy in North Wales, enjoying multiple solo shows and overseas exhibitions. Her work is collected internationally.

In 2020 Sarah Jane was awarded full membership to the Guild Society of Artists, part of the Fine Art Trade Guild, and the right to use the 'GSA' post-nominal letters. The award acknowledges the consistently high standard of her work, as well as her professionalism and business ethics.
