

Pembrokeshire artist Sarah Jane Brown opens studio to visitors with show of new paintings

Welsh artist Sarah Jane Brown has opened her Pembrokeshire art studio to welcome summer visitors with a show of new seascapes and landscapes.

Known for her expressive and emotive paintings, Sarah Jane's new work draws on the feelings she experiences whilst walking the coastal landscape near her home in the Pembrokeshire Coast National Park. Capturing the energy of the sea and impressive force of the tides, the rugged beauty of the local landscape and ever-changing Pembrokeshire skies, her paintings present an emotional narrative that invite the viewer to engage on a deeper level.

Large and airy, Sarah Jane's studio offers a light and welcoming space for visitors wanting to take a look behind the scenes of a busy working art studio, and browse the latest works on display. For those unable to visit, paintings are available to view on sjbfineart.com. Classes and workshops are also planned for summer 2021.
