Unique Method of Storage and Clever Picture Hanging Gadget Given Opportunity to Pitch to Home Depot, Among Other National and Regional Retailers

Las Vegas, NV (May 2019): When a father-daughter duo puts their heads together to create helpful inventions for the home, the result are products that organize and make life easier. Ron Hunt, an engineering veteran, and Shari Hammond have created Store It! Cabinet Caddy and Go Hang It! – both to be featured at the National Hardware Show’s United Inventors Association Inventors Spotlight, Las Vegas Convention Center, May 7 – 9, 2019, Booth IS9109.

“To be accepted for the Inventors Spotlight through the United Inventors Association and to be asked to pitch Home Depot and other major retailers gives us the confidence that Cabinet Caddy and Hang It are products worthy of mass consumer use,” notes Hammond. “Our hope is to have these problem-solving gadgets available to larger audiences through relationships we look forward to solidifying at the National Hardware Show.”

Store It! Cabinet Caddy provides an opportunity to reclaim cluttered spaces. Perfect for spices, medicine cabinet, bathroom vanity, workbench hardware and more, Cabinet Caddy fits stand cabinets and looks great on countertops as well. Each Cabinet Caddy holds 30% larger bottles than competitors. Just pull and rotate the device for easy access to organized items. Cabinet Caddy was engineered to fit and function neatly side-by-side to create a “library” of organized materials. Complete with stick-on labels and foam stability inserts to keep smaller bottles from tipping. No assembly required. Visit www.StoreItCaddy.com.

To combat the ongoing problem and frustration of hanging pictures perfectly, Go Hang It is the perfect solution. With no tape measurers or rulers necessary, Go Hang It is an all-in-one tool that works with sawtooth and wire hanging hardware, features a unique nail-marking system and also includes a built-in, removable level to help hang pictures straight. Go Hang It includes premium picture-hanging hardware including the V-Tooth Hanger; a reengineered, fool-proof sawtooth hanger. Visit www.GoHangIt.com. All products are patent-pending.

Sponsored by the non-profit United Inventors Association, the National Hardware Show's Inventors Spotlight features products not yet on the market, giving attendees an inside look at what may be the next big product or service to revolutionize the home improvement industry. Inventors have the opportunity to meet with buyers and potential investors to get feedback on their products.
