

GRANVILLE ISLAND

Not really an island, located on a peninsula in Vancouver, Granville Island is a famous shopping area known for its public market, brewery, and artist community. There is so much that you can see, taste, and discover. Fresh seafood, baked goods, and fresh fruit or vegetables can always be found at the Public Market. If you get a craving for some fresh seafood, check out Bridges, a popular waterfront dining location with its bistro, bar, and patio. Afterwards, catch the Aquabus over to False Creek for even more places to shop and have some fun. And maybe if you're lucky, you may see Bigfoot lurking close by, as Granville is also known for a few Bigfoot sightings.

1. Granville Island was once called Industrial Island. Chains, wire rope, barrels, nails, saws, paint, cement and all sorts of industrial machinery were made here.
2. The Canadian Flag—also known as the Maple Leaf Flag
3. The Flag of British Columbia
4. Colorful stalls showcasing homemade products and food can be found in the Public Market. Get food fresh from the ocean or the oven.
5. Totem art—some of the arts and crafts that can be found on Granville Island.
6. False Creek is a short inlet in the heart of Vancouver separating downtown from the rest of the city.
7. The “Aquabus” or boat taxis provides passenger ferry service to destinations in False Creek.
8. Eric the Rooster
9. There have been a few Bigfoot sightings in the Pacific Northwest. Can you find another bigfoot in the painting?
10. During WWII, Wright’s Canadian Ropes on the island was Canada’s biggest manufacturer of heavy-duty wire rope.
11. Sushi—popular food in Vancouver
12. Burrard Bridge
13. Be careful feeding the many seagulls around Granville Island—they won’t leave you alone as Eric experienced.
14. Try some fresh vegetables at the Granville Public Market.
15. Flounders have the ability to change the color of their body to blend with their environment.
16. Check out the Salmon shop on Granville Island for the freshest salmon around. You can even try some salmon candy.
17. Bridges is a popular waterfront place to eat fresh seafood.
18. Granville Island is a shopping district in Vancouver.
19. Wendy the goose
20. Trying to spot Bigfoot