

LA JOLLA COVE

The Native American name for the area meant, "Land of Holes." La Jolla has nothing to do with holes though. Some believe it's a derivation of the Spanish word la joya which means jewel, thus the cities nickname of "Jewel City." La Jolla Cove is a part of the San Diego/ La Jolla Underwater Park, a marine refuge area great area for snorkelers and scuba divers. The Cove is known for resident wild seals and sea lions. The Scripps Oceanographic Institute is a strong partner in the area. Have fun with Eric at La Jolla Cove, known for wildlife wonders, scenic sunsets and beautiful boutiques.

1. California Sea Lions are frequent residents at the cove.
2. Because of the abundant sea life this is a great place to snorkel and scuba dive.
3. Harbor Seals have rookeries in the area.
4. California traditional "Woody" heading to the beach.
5. The Scripps Institute for Oceanographic Research is based in the area.
6. "Return With Honor" is a popular saying in Eric's home.
7. Mystery Machine looking for some tasty waves.
8. La Jolla Cove is part of the San Diego – La Jolla Underwater Park (a marine refuge area.)
9. The La Jolla Cove Suites are a popular landmark.
10. 1020 Prospect St./ Madison Gallery
11. Iconic La Valencia Hotel
12. L.D.S. San Diego Temple