

MARBLEHEAD

Marblehead, located on the coast of Massachusetts, was founded in 1629 and contains picturesque 17th and 18th century buildings. The city is known for its military history and is the birthplace of the U.S. Navy. In addition, it has one of the busiest harbors on the North Shore and is known as “the yachting capital of America.”

1. The city was named for a white boulder that was mistaken for marble. It was actually just white washed by the seagulls.
2. Eric is fascinated by watercraft names like H2O K9—Water Dog.
3. The city has many beautiful Cape Cod style homes.
4. Many prominent yachting clubs call Marblehead home.
5. Old North Congregational Church
6. The colonial flag is for the Marblehead regulars under John Glover who were instrumental in the American Revolution.
