

PARIS

Looking northwest along the Champ du Mars with the Trocadero framing the Eiffel Tower is an amazing view of Paris that many would long to enjoy if they could. Well, now you can with Eric's vision of the city in his painting of Paris. Not only does he capture the classic architecture of the Ecole Militaire and the Eiffel Tower plaza, this piece features some of Eric's favorite places, stories, and legends from the cities past and present. Stroll through the Paris of Eric's vision through the park and across the Seine as you enjoy the City of Romance.
