

SAN FRANCISCO PIER

An ocean breeze, kites in the air, the clang of the trolley, and the enticing smell of chocolate in the air. Ghirardelli Square is known for its enchantments alongside Fisherman's Wharf. Whether you are there to indulge in the chocolate or not, there are plenty of choices to partake of in this restored, now historic landmark area. Sit on a bench watching the sun go down. Listen to the music of a local saxophone player at the square, and eat ice cream sundaes with your friends – Is there anything better?
