GAMING MONSTERS

Toss away those school books, put on your game face, and flex those claws, tentacles, or whatever appendages you have because it's game time! Test your gaming skills as you survive the night with your pals and all the pizza you can eat as you fight your way through all of your favorite video games. As you and your family build this fun folk art puzzle, you will discover that the most epic game night of your monster life is about to begin!

1. Looks like some ants have successfully snuck into the party! Now they are on the hunt to find the best pizza a monster can buy.
2. Did you know that a godzilla rat will only eat cheese and pepperoni slices? Well that's what this little guy said after he snitched some, so it must be true, right?
3. Randy is gooier than the pepperoni pizza, and it does wonders for his skin.
4. Who needs pizza when you've got caterpillars that taste like rose petals and ice cream?
5. There's always that one monster that has it's eye glued to their new phone.
6. Alex may smell fishy, but this nerd will show you what a true video game champion can do, even with glasses and headgear!
7. Harold's philosophy is that for a good game night, all he needs is the perfect spoon to bite in half and swallow, then gulp down his favorite cereal in a few seconds.
8. What daddy long-leg spider wouldn't be proud of his kids?
9. Meet Daniel, the king of video games, who now challenges Alex, the gaming monster champion, to win tonight's epic battle.
10. When Zephyr says, "Cool party bro," you know that this party is mind-blowing!
11. Even with eight arms and five eyes, a mom still needs help every now and then, especially while hosting the best gaming party ever!
12. Kyle's braces are not for straightening his teeth, it helps sharpen them to a perfect point so that he can eat his favorite food without getting anything stuck.
13. Pamela knows all the monster fashion trends from Weekly Gross Sick-teen, like how painting your toenails red makes all the boys stare at you.
14. Looks like Sassy's getting hungry and Mr. Chop is looking extremely delicious tonight.
15. Mr. Chop didn't get his name for nothing. I mean, look at those teeth for a little guy!
