

GRAND CANYON

This painting depicts the south rim of the Grand Canyon in the late afternoon, when the canyon walls are bathed in the unforgettable orange colors that have captured the heart of so many visitors. This image captures the relaxed feeling of a National Parks summer vacation and features many notable South Rim landmarks, including Bright Angel Lodge, The El Tovar Hotel, and the Desert View Watchtower to East, and of course, the Grand Canyon Railway.

1. The Grand Canyon of the Colorado River—277 miles long, 4 – 18 miles wide, and over a mile deep. This painting is on the south rim.
2. Kolb Studio
3. Lookout Studio*
4. El Tovar Lodge on the south rim.
5. Bright Angel Restaurant and Lodge
6. The Chief—Best Western Hotel
7. Mary Colter designed and oversaw the building of several south rim buildings* which have been added to the National Historic Registry.
8. The Grand Canyon Railroad—a must ride.
9. A Havasupai brave scoping out life on the upper rim.
10. Burros are surefooted rides into the rugged canyon.
11. An adventurous gingerbread cookie
12. For centuries the Hopi people have lived at the top of the canyon while the Havasupai live in the Canyon.
13. Grand chicken.
14. Boy Scouts waiting for the train with a friend.
15. Le skunk.
16. Theodore Roosevelt was the first U.S. President to visit the canyon.
17. The teddy bear makes me think this is Roosevelt's car.
18. Grand Canyon South Rim Visitors Center
19. Hopi House*
20. Verkamp's Visitor Center
21. Old Desert View Tower*
22. What a view an eagle flying over the canyon would have.
23. The John Wesley Powell expedition (1869)

*Mary Colter buildings