RAINING CATS AND DOGS

Quick! Look out your window! It's raining cats and dogs! Whether you're a dog person, or a cat person, this rainy weather will leave you in awe! Relive your childhood dream as this metaphor comes to life in this vibrant and lively puzzle. With so many different breeds of cats and dogs, perhaps you'll find your pet raining from the sky!

1. The phrase "Raining cats and dogs" may come from two sources: First, the Greek expression cata doxa, which means "contrary to experience or belief." If it is raining cats and dogs, it is raining unusually or unbelievably hard.
2. The second, Odin, the Norse god of storms, was often pictured with dogs and wolves, which were symbols of wind. Witches, who supposedly rode their brooms during storms, were often pictured with black cats, which became signs of heavy rain for sailors. Therefore, "raining cats and dogs" may refer to a storm with wind: dogs and heavy rain: cats.
