Loughrigg Hatt in SCUBA MERINO & MERINO 120

We originally designed our Loughrigg Hat to be sold with Dovestone DK (sold in 100g hanks). Dovestone DK has now been discontinued, so we now sell this pattern with our very own lovely Scuba Merino, and occasionally 120.

While your pattern states you need 100g of yarn, we actually discovered that a lot of the 100g of Dovestone yarn was being left over after making this hat, and after tests with the new yarn, saw that a 50g ball of Scuba Merino or Merino 120 was enough to make it.

Your 50g ball of Scuba Merino or Merino 120 should be a sufficient amount, however on occasion some balls of yarn are slightly shorter than their advised length, and people's different knitting gauges can mean that some use more than others in a knit.

If you have a problem and you do run out of yarn, just drop us a line or send us a photo letting us know, and we'd be happy to send you another ball of yarn to finish your project.

As always, if you have any problems or need some help - just get in touch with us via the website or email us at
