

THE POSITION

We are looking for an operations & production intern to contribute to the growth of KASSL Editions. You will support the Production & Development Manager with all possible activities of the daily operations. Daily activities consist of sourcing, chasing and tracking the fabric - and production orders from supplier to factory, to make sure the KASSL orders are delivered on time in full. Hereby the intern will be in close contact with both suppliers and factories, aiming for the best price and lead times. The intern will also support the order process, quality – and/or information requests from the wholesale partners, to make sure the products are well received by partners and end-consumers. Next to that, the intern will be responsible for sending out parcels, keeping our back-office system It's Perfect up to date, and for keeping track of the samples.

There is room for taking the initiative and testing your own ideas to help KASSL improve in a healthy and conscious way. This internship will help you to acquire a deeper understanding of the operations and production activities of a high-end fashion brand within the fashion industry. You will be part of a small team where you can achieve a high learning curve depending of your own proactiveness and could be of great added value for the KASSL brand.

We are looking for a flexible organizational talent with self-discipline. Not a single day is the same at KASSL. The challenge for you will be to structure busy and hectic situations. In addition, you have commercial flair and a strong customer-centered approach.

ABOUT KASSL EDITIONS

KASSL Editions was founded in 2018, when a collective of fashion-literate friends from around Europe were brought together by an old fisherman's coat. The coat's simple cut, together with its extreme technical character and generous shape were the spark for the creative group to create an outerwear brand with a genderless, durable and functional ethos and commitment to radical quality.

Since then, the KASSL Editions has moved into accessories with its instantly recognizable, "puffy" Pillow bags, originally constructed using offcuts from production. Selected homewares followed, including the Pillow sofa, a sought-after reinterpretation of KASSL Editions accessories by the Belgian design duo Muller Van Severen created for a sustainability-themed project initiated by Wallpaper*. The hallmark of every KASSL creation is the outstanding cut, created by and for real people with a real love for quality. The shapes are so democratic that they suit everyone, transcending styles, times, genders and generations. KASSL Editions stockists include Matches, Net A Porter, Selfridges, SSense, Browns and Lafayette.

YOUR PROFILE

For this position we are looking for an enthusiastic and ambitious person who is structured, independent and a team player. The perfect candidate is:

- HBO or University-level graduate;
- You are hands-on and always oriented towards problem solving;
