Introduction

PRP (Platelet Rich Plasma) Vampire Facial – A definition

This is an exclusive treatment using autologous platelets for the natural rejuvenation of the skin. PRP, growth factors and stem cells are utilised in the treatment of the skin to renew and rejuvenate the cells. The process requires drawing blood from the arm, separating the platelets and then either by Microneedling or direct injection into the skin.

This is a natural therapy and completely safe treatment. The successful treatment is enhanced activating the platelets and releasing the growth factors from the granules in the platelets. By using the microneedle technique, it is also more effective when injected into the dermis.

Trained phlebotomists extract the required blood, and this is processed via a centrifuge on a hard spin to activate the stem cells and platelets. The product is then ready for injection following the client's treatment with a micro roller (this punctures the skin with fine needles the product injected then repairs and renews the tissue.
