

Song 6 : The End of the Day Song

“The End of the Day Song”. At the end of our journey, life’s journey, there is often, not often, all the time. There are songs that are given to the individual and on his journey to the spirit world this song is sung. And there are many different songs, every tribe; every nation has their “going to the spirit world” song. And there might be thirty or forty of them. Thirty, Forty, Fifty, Sixty of them, within each Nation. And this is just one of them. It’s called “The End of the Day”. At the end of the journey, your life’s day, at the end of the day, any particular day. At the end of a long journey, maybe you were hunting and come back, they sing that song because the journeys over and sometimes you’re out there in the bush, sometimes you are out there in the forest, the woods. Maybe two or three weeks and when you comeback, you sing that song.
