

Indego Africa Studio Assistant Intern – Fall 2019

Indego Africa is looking for a Studio Assistant Intern to join our NYC team this fall! The Studio Assistant Intern will assist with product packaging, shipping, post-production, and inventory management, as well as photoshoots & in-person sales. S/he will gain hands-on experience with the logistics of running an international design and sales company while learning about the fields of design, production, wholesale/retail, marketing and analytics, and international development.

Candidate Profile:

- High-energy team player with a willingness to pitch in wherever needed
- Strong organizational skills and attention to detail
- Quick learner and problem-solver
- Proficiency in, or ability to become proficient in, Shopify (e-commerce platform) and Square (credit card-processing app)
- Passion for design, branding, and handmade products (crafty-ness a plus!)
- Familiarity with Excel, and coursework in marketing or analytics preferred

Required Skills & Expected Projects:

Logistics

- Assist Wholesale Account Manager and Production & Fulfillment Associate with packaging and shipping customer orders
- Help unpack product shipments from Rwanda and Ghana; help count, organize, and store inventory at our Long Island City office
- Support the Sales Team with inventory management

Post-Production

- Make sure our products look beautiful when they reach their final customer! This may include sewing on labels, ironing apparel, putting on tags, and adding other finishing touches

In-Person Sales

- Attend NYC-area trunk shows, sample sales, and pop-up shops (as needed) to help set up and sell Indego Africa merchandise

Analytics

- Assist Development & Communications Manager with Indego Africa's monthly marketing and analytics report, collecting and recording data from Google Analytics, Shopify, MailChimp, and social media platforms

Other

- Attend and assist with photoshoots
- Assist design team with sourcing and pickups/drop-offs as needed
- Conduct special projects as assigned

Dates: 10-20 hours/week; September through December 2019

Application Instructions: To apply, please email intern@indegofafrica.org with: (a) name of specific internship in the subject line, (b) your resume, (c) a thoughtful cover letter. Your name, the date, and the position must be in the title of your attached documents. No phone calls please.
