Essence Friends,

Have any of you been feeling a bit strange lately? Perhaps feeling a bit down or some malaise? Any strange physical symptoms like higher than usual blood pressure, higher blood sugar levels or fatigue?

A short while ago I received an email from Lori Wilson, an MSW here in Guelph who has been channelling "Grandmother", a Shoshone spirit guide, for decades. Lori also teaches energy classes amongst other things. In her write up she mentioned a "new electromagnetic manufactured veil", that Grandmother says is now affecting us. Click here for a link to her full PDF gift explaining this.

Here is part of her message. I might add that it is somewhat unusual for Grandmother to speak in this way. Her sessions offer positivity, hope and guidance for us on this plane. You can find the rest through the link above:

"Now – we are at another pivotal time in our human evolution where a new Veil need be pierced. This new Veil has the potential of being traversed or thinned as well. However, this is not a natural Veil. It is one that has been manufactured by humans. It has been fabricated to keep you separate from yourself, separate from deep connections — from the Spiritual and natural worlds. This Manufactured Veil – we shall call it, is electromagnetic in nature. It has been in the making for decades but has only made its debut in the last year or so. Its purpose is to support technology — this much is seen and known..."

"However, a dual purpose is to dull the human experience so much so that we no longer feel like ourselves. We no longer feel motivated to query and quest, to connect with others or with the natural kingdoms. The natural veil that once thinned to allow us to connect with so much around us, now is at risk of being muted out by a newer electromagnetic bandwidth. This Manufactured bandwidth or Veil is so overstimulating that it creates a reaction in your body that invites stillness. Without consciousness of what you are perceiving it can feel like apathy and lethargy in your body, mind, and soul... For some of you this began last year, while for others, it has been creeping up since the summer of this calendar year. Regardless of when you noticed it, words that describe how you have been feeling can be ones such as: flat, on pause, neutral, blah, not caring, lack of focus, lost motivation, tiredness, lost spark, immobile, detached and so on..." Sound familiar?

Then I received an email from a friend in the UK who is also 'energy sensitive' in a big way, being able to see timelines and home in on just where the core concerns might be. She mentioned experiencing dimensional energy shifts and was feeling much closer to nature than before. She noted that we were in "strange times".

And then, during the same time frame, I received a text from a friend who is an energy healer saying that this past week their blood pressure skyrocketed to 180/108 for no reason that they were aware of, plus no symptoms. Coincidentally, mine did exactly the same thing. Then two other practitioners confirmed that they had also been feeling this malaise or had clients who were experiencing it. So, what's up and what can we do about it???

Grandmother has some advice for us... "You are – however, feeling, palpating, and describing the Manufactured Veil that both supports technology AND purposefully dulls your awareness. And so, the solution to this is two-fold.

First, you must bring a consciousness to the Manufactured Veil itself. Describe it, draw it, speak about it with others – find a way to notice it, like you would a color or a scent.

Secondly, you must be out in Nature more and practice connecting with the heartbeat of the Earth. This will remind you of your shared frequency with the Earth..."

And... allowing essences to help you through this to become a more conscious being.
