MINIM OFFICE

INTELLIGENCE WITHOUT AMBITION IS A BIRD WITHOUT WINGS.

Salvador Dali

OUR PURPOSE

In setting out to design our Workplace collection, we weren't seeking to change the way we work, rather, our goal was to elevate how we work – to design a product that enhances the experience and productivity of those who use it by infusing it with the same genuine design and material sensibility our Brooklyn studio has become known for.

We believe that a commitment to craft, style and authenticity is as important in the workspace as it is in our homes. With the balance between work and home continuing to evolve, we sought to create a product that reflects the growing awareness in our society of the products we use and the spaces we inhabit.

Striking a balance between minimalism, bespoke design and classic angular proportions, this collection reflects this belief; its rich materiality incorporated into clean, contemporary and easily adaptable forms for a refined simplicity suitable for the next generation of workplace design.

POWER AND DATA

MINIM OFFICE comes equipped with two removable panels on each intermediate leg to accommodate wires from flush-mount floor cores. Designed to direct and conceal wires into the workstations, the center channel is designated for power and the outer channels for data. Once fed through the leg the wires can navigate through the troughs for easy installation.

If running electrical from a wall, our system is equipped with three holes at the bottom of each trough; the center for power and the outer two holes for data. Wires can then be fed under the leg and up through the trough cut-outs for easy installation with no drilling required.
