

Note on Galician Albergues: the regional government Xunta de Galicia has constructed modern purpose-built pilgrim hostels or converted former school buildings all along the route from here to Finisterre. This is one of the better examples of a rather uninspiring uniform design. These hostels can generally be identified by the stark white walls and the blue Telefonica kiosk outside. They all have reasonable facilities, such as hot showers and toilets, but kitchens are frequently out of commission. The cynical might hint at exploitation by local restaurants but forewarned is forearmed and everyone needs to make a living. There is usually a restaurant close by, often run by the hospitalera. Uniform charge of €8 per night.
