On your behalf,
communities in Gaza will receive the gift of a nurse.

This gift covers the cost of a nurse's salary for a month so that they can continue working in their community and provide vital medical care to families living under the blockade.

Due to the blockade, there is widespread poverty and unemployment in Gaza which means many families don't have enough to eat, leaving thousands of children going hungry and malnourished.

Nurses and healthcare workers like Fatima* (pictured) screen and treat children under six for anaemia and malnutrition like Maya* (pictured), providing health education and nutrition information for families – saving countless lives.
