Metal Fire Protection Box

(To hold building plans for Fire Officers, to comply with UK RRO requirements)

Description:

A metal box with intumescent fire protection glass cloth bag, to hold your building plans for the fire brigade and your RRO Report according to the 2006 UK requirements. The box is fitted with a lock. Would suit a reception area or with a fitted alarm for external use to deter vandals.

Application:

Secure to wall in suitable location. Use the fireproof document pouch inside to hold important detailed information about the whole building and risk areas. The plan box can be easily accessed by fire officers. The plan box for external use has a built-in alarm which emits sound and flashes a blue light if the box is opened or damaged by vandals.

For extra information about the various lock and alarm combinations available please contact the Technical Department.
