SOURCING INFORMATION

The Giakanja Factory started anew upon gaining independence from its cooperative, Tetu, fifty years ago. Today there are over 2,000 member smallholder farmers who supply freshly-picked coffee cherries to the factory.

The farmers in this Southern Nyeri region grow a mixture of SL-28 and SL-34 cultivars at altitudes of 1700-1900 meters. The small farms are gathered on the eastern slopes of the Aberdare mountain, providing the perfect mixture of morning sun and cool nighttime temperatures.

In addition to producing stunning coffees, the Giakanja Farmers Cooperative Society is also known for maintaining a transparent model and providing documented payment scales.
