

CITB Site Management Safety Training Scheme (SMSTS)

Course Description

The SMSTS course is for project managers, site managers and supervisors, business owners and clients. You will gain an understanding of health, safety, welfare and environmental issues on construction sites leading to the CITB renewable 5 year Site Safety Plus certificate.

Course Information

Five Day Course

Covering all the required legislation that would affect the safe working in a building, civil engineering or construction industry. The course will teach you to understand the need for risk assessment within your workplace and construction sites, how to implement the required controlled safety measures, and the importance of excellent communication between you and your entire workforce. Thus, helping to create and sustain an excellent health and safety culture across the board of employees.

The CITB Site Management Safety Training Scheme covers:

- > The Health and Safety at Work Act
- > Scaffolding
- > Construction Design and Management (CDM) Regulations
- > Demolition
- > Risk assessments/method statements
- > Confined spaces
- > Recent changes in accepted working practices
- > Behavioural safety
- > Management of occupational health
- > Electricity
- > Excavations
- > Working at height