ALFRED HOMANN

CARL HANSEN & SØN

DESCRIPTION

Simplicity, clarity and logic were the guiding design principles for Alfred Homann during the development of the AH Outdoor Series, where all superfluous details were eliminated in favor of simple expression and high functionality. The series consists of eleven pieces of furniture, including dining tables and chairs, a bench, lounge tables and chairs and a lounge, all of which can be mixed and matched to fit individual needs.

DESIGNER

Born in 1948, Alfred Homann was a multi-award-winning Danish architect and designer. Simplicity, clarity, and logic were always the most important parameters for Homann, and his keen eye for details is evident in everything he designed. Homann created furniture and lighting, as well as architectural projects at museums, railway stations, private residences, and public buildings – everything with great precision and thoroughness.
