

VLA61 MONARCH CHAIR

VILHELM LAURITZEN

CARL HANSEN & SØN

DESCRIPTION

The VLA61 Monarch Chair is named after the majestic Monarch butterfly, and the name is a tribute to the architect's keen interest in butterflies, which he diligently studied throughout his life. With its generous upholstery, curved armrests, and organic, teardrop-shaped curvatures of the bars, the chair embodies an artistic expression that is light and sumptuous at the same time. Details such as the small brass feet and hand-polished joints testify to Lauritzen's consistent design signature.

DESIGNER

Vilhelm Theodor Lauritzen was one of Denmark's most important architects of his time and became one of the fathers of Danish Modernism. Today, many of his projects remain as lasting examples of what was then a new and revolutionary architecture in which form follows function. He studied butterflies with great enthusiasm, but he was first and foremost an architect and maintained through his career that architecture should be an applied art that serves all – not just the few and the privileged
