CLASSIC CRAFTSMANSHIP FOR the MODERN GENTLEMAN

Nestled in the villages of Tuscany, four generations of artisans have been creating exquisite Italian footwear. It's a time-honored family tradition passed down from master shoemakers to their children and grandchildren. With passion, an ardent eye for style, and sublime attention to detail, they ensure Zelli shoes are a treasured addition to well-heeled wardrobes everywhere. Pattern makers hand-select luxurious leathers and exotic skins so each pair of shoes showcases the material's inherent beauty. Basket-weave loafers are handwoven as they have been for centuries. Every shoe is a stunning nod to the artistry and craftsmanship that is quintessentially Zelli.

LOAFERS

The quintessential go-to shoe beloved by well-heeled modern men everywhere was inspired by a notorious fashion icon of his time—King George IV. It seems their slip-on ease was perfect for relaxing weekends at his bucolic country estate. Today, we've reinterpreted this style staple with sophisticated designs, artisan craftsmanship and luxurious Italian and exotic leathers even King George would covet.

Coveted Caiman

An intricate pattern of scales and ridges set the lustrous skin of Caiman crocodiles apart from American alligator and Nile crocodile. Along with its luxurious texture, its hardy structure makes it well-suited for sophisticated footwear.

NUOVO MODERNE

The Italians exude it so well—sprezzatura. Fashion that is rooted in flawless craftsmanship and exquisite attention to detail, yet somehow manages to look effortless, not overwrought. Case in point: dapper low-vamp loafers that showcase the shivering break of perfectly tailored trousers and eye-catching socks—all while encasing the foot in thoroughly modern style.

LACE-UPS

Evolution is fascinating. Take the sleek and sophisticated lace-ups that are de rigueur of so many discerning men. In their first incarnation, they were humble shoes worn by peat farmers on the moors of Britain. Today, ours are an entirely new species that boast sublime silhouettes, luxe Italian and exotic leathers, and artisan details you won't find on the bogs.

MONK STRAPS

Even men of the cloth have a pragmatic side. So when their peasant sandals were deemed impractical, the monks donned closed-toe shoes embellished with a single strap and buckle as pious nod to their original footwear. Our monk straps, of course, are a refined merger of form and function with elegant good looks that are simply divine.

The Sexy Polish of Peccary

The neat and natty allure of peccary makes it a handsome choice for gentlemen's footwear. Combine its refined good looks with peccary's remarkable durability, elasticity and suppleness, and it's easy to understand why this exotic skin is so prized.

CHUKKA BOOTS

After thundering down a grassy pitch straddling a magnificent polo pony, players ditch their jodhpur boots for something a bit more comfortable—chukka boots (their name inspired by a seven-minute period of polo play). Our stable of Italian-crafted chukka boots are designed for a much larger playing field—your life.

Evviva per Vibram!

When inventor Vitale Bramai's friends perished in a tragic climbing accident in the Italian Alps, he decided to invent safer climbing soles. Now more than 80 years later, his innovative rubber lugs have been adapted into posh Vibram soles that add superior comfort and slip protection to our men's shoes.

DRIVERS

Winding through the countryside in a seductive Italian roadster was the prescription for weekend fun in 1963. But as gentlemen soon discovered, commanding such a racy beauty was not easy in dress shoes. Hence, a chic and comfortable shoe perfect for clutching a red Ferrari or silver Maserati was born. More than 50 years later, our stylish drivers are perfect for navigating winding country roads or the streets of Manhattan.

The Art of Mutual Attraction

Our drivers are more than handsome. Handcrafted in Italy, every pair features removable anatomic insoles for ultimate comfort and support, while specially crafted full rubber outsoles provide welcome traction in all weather.
