Vineyard Cultivation:

Having helmed the iconic Domaine Hudelot-Noellat since 2008, Charles Van Canneyt is well known among burgundy connoisseurs. Charles is Alain Hudelot's grandson and a very talented and skilled winemaker in his own right. Through his extensive network of Burgundy's finest growers, Charles sources excellent grapes. By style, it's aligned with the family wines, pure and terroir transparent. Les Sentiers sits just south of Bonnes Mares on the border with Morey Saint Denis, and with its rich brown soils can display traits more closely aligned with its neighbour than is typical of other Chambolle sites.

Vinification:

After being pressed, the wine is collected to be aged in Charles' cellar. Maturation is undertaken in French oak barrels without new oak for twelve months.

Tasting Notes:

Not yet tasted or reviewed.

Soil Type:

Hard Jurassic limestone
