THE PROFESSIONALS

“We don't make a drama out of a crisis”, is Spilltech's motto and their timely and effective response to oil spills and related incidents has seen the company establish a reputation as one of the most professional operators in the business.

SpillTech Environmental Ltd is a Monaghan based company which offers a range of environmental solutions to private clients, insurance companies and government agencies. The firm specialises in the application of in-situ bio remediation technology to a range of hydrocarbons including petrol, diesel oil and kerosene home heating oil.

It bases its recommendations on a simple, thorough but low-cost environmental site investigation and can guarantee the results for a fixed fee. The firm employs professionals with a wide range of expertise, including, in-situ bio remediation, environmental science, environmental site assessment, (phase I through to phase III), removal and transportation of contaminants, site remediation and project management.

Following contact from a client, the company responds rapidly and will arrange to visit the site quickly, usually within two days to carry out a walkover and a site investigation. A report will usually be issued within 5 to 7 days and in the case of oil spills clients should expect a report to be issued rapidly from any specialist company as it is not a particularly complicated project.

Spilltech appreciate the importance of reassuring their clients – many of whom tend to fear the worst at the outset of an oil spill or related incident. However, while it may initially feel like a disastrous situation at the time, Spilltech will complete the vast majority of projects within a 4 to 8 weeks period.

For clients a particularly appealing aspect of Spilltech's service is the fixed price quotation and competitive pricing structure while the rapid response time and the fact that they can be on site anywhere in the county within 48 hours is also an attractive attribute. They also have an impressive track record in terms of meeting demanding schedules and deadlines.

The company expressed delight at receiving the Public Sector Award as the public sector is a key target market for the company.

Looking to the future the key objectives for the company are to ‘continue to provide their oil spillage services to consumers, companies and organisations throughout Ireland’.

Spilltech cite their motto as “we don't make a drama out of a crisis”, and their aim is to continue to provide their
