

Chapter One - Creation Of The Heavens

In the beginning was God. There was none beside Him, none like Him and none above Him. And He considered all things, and knew all things. Who can measure the mind of God? No-one; for the mind of God is not like man's, nor like the angels, nor like any other being, both great and small, for He created them all. (The words as revealed to Kyera regarding "In the beginning").

Vision Of The Heavens

'In the beginning' was written under the inspiration of God Almighty, which began immediately after the following vision of the principal author.

1st May 2015, 10pm

On this day, I went into prayer to seek God's guidance on this topic, "In the beginning". He called me into His presence. He was seated on His throne, and before Him was a stairway. Then He told me to sit on the second step from the top of the stairway, which was below where He was seated, so I did.

He told me to look towards Him, starting from His feet. I looked at His feet. Around and below His feet, I could see what looked like the universe and planets. From His feet up to His shoulder area, I could see places. Around His shoulder to His head area, I could see clouds, light and what looked glorious.

I then asked Him why He created the earth.

He told me to stand and look at what He was about to show me. So I stood up, and He showed me a place that looked like a divide. On my right side was light and on my left side was darkness.

Where the light was, I saw lots of activities happening. This is where He resides. I clearly noticed what looked like land. Then He showed me the darkness on my left. It was empty, just a space that looked endless. He told me that this place is where He goes to think. This is His private space that no other being is allowed to enter.

I asked Him, "You are the light on this side", referring to my right side. "So when You go to the dark side, does it also turn into light?" He told me that He calls the 'light' side on my right, the great heavens

On the dark side, He is the only light. Because He created it to be dark, when He is in the great expanse, He is the only light there. You can still see darkness but He will not blend in that darkness. You will still see Him in light and His Majesty.

Then I asked Him, because He is the Creator of light and darkness, why is it that the enemy uses darkness? His response was that the enemy always finds a way to use His creation against Him.

The Earth

In relation to my question on His creation of the earth, God Almighty explained that earth is one of the beings in the great expanse. When He decided to 'clothe' the great expanse with status, He created all these other beings, which we now call the sun, the moon, the stars, the planets, and the galaxies.

I then asked Him about whether the modern scientific evolution theory of the "Big Bang" is true. Rather than state His agreement or disagreement, He simply answered, "I spoke everything into being." Thus as God Almighty revealed, He created everything from His word.

The account of His creation of the earth is in the Book of Genesis. For the purpose of this book, God Almighty revealed that when He created the earth, He first gave life to her. Hence, the scripture "let there be light." The earth was originally made of stone and dust.

There was one interesting thing that He said about the earth. He originally called the earth, "Ilumy, the enlightened one". He called her Ilumy because she would give out His light to the great expanse. Ilumy was her prophetic name. She was later clothed in beauty and splendour and was referred to as "earth". He referred to the earth as a she, as she is the only planet that reproduces plants and life. This is a status that no other planet received.

God Almighty And The Heavenly Realms

It was in the beginning that God Almighty chose His creation. There was no other creator before Him, for He was the beginning.

Everything He created, He spoke into existence. He gave each of them life, a purpose and connection to Him.

He set each of them in their place, to fulfil their purpose and to enjoy all that He created around them.

God made realms and gave them their attributes.

These realms were clothed in His majestic presence. He separated these realms as light and darkness.

The light, He called the great heavens, for it was truly beautiful and eternal. The darkness, He called the great expanse, for it was endless and peaceful.

He loved both realms, for they reflected His glory, His majesty and His eternal nature.

Creation In The Great Heavens

And God said, “Behold, I shall create places in the great heavens, for it shall be the place where I sit, where life shall inhabit and prosper. Behold, the great heavens shall be filled, and there shall be companions and beings as I live.”

Then places formed in the great heavens and were adorned with trees, valleys, grasses, mountains, hills, water running through the land marks, stones, paths, flowers of all colours, and every creeping plant.

And He saw their beauty and He blessed them with peace, the cool breeze, the delicate frost, the dew drops and the skies of colour. All these creations sang out to Him in praise and wonder, and God was pleased with them.

Then God said, “You shall be inhabited with companions and behold you shall be peaceful for all eternity. For you shall be the desired place of dwelling.”

And God blessed the great heavens.

The Creation Of Heavenly Beings

God Almighty sat on His throne, and spoke beings into existence, which was witnessed by all that were created in the great heavens.

Principalities, Powers, Angelic Beings

He made beings that would look after each place in the great heavens and called them principalities.

Then He made beings that would sit before Him and carry out His majestic presence to the places in the great heavens, and He called them powers.

Then He created beings that would be guardians and carry out His word and work in the great heavens. He called them angels.

All these beings had His light and were clothed with His majesty, power and eternal nature. They reflected the image of God Almighty. And there were those that reflected the character of God.

And He was pleased with all He created, as these heavenly beings took care of the great heavens and worshipped Him in His majesty.

Pure Beings - God Almighty's First Children

And God said, "Behold I shall create beings to walk upon the grounds of these places, to enjoy and be companions of all I created. And I shall call them my first children."

Then God sat on His throne and spoke beings into existence. And they were in His likeness and image. And a host of angels witnessed this creation of God's first children. Each of them was created unique, full of the beauty, majesty and peace of God.

And God was pleased with this creation and He loved them as His own. He placed them in a place which He called paradise and let them grow into age.

And God called them His children, and they called Him "Papa", because He was their Father, full of love and care for their kind.
