HERBAL INDUSTRY LEADER GAIA HERBS CELEBRATES 30th ANNIVERSARY

Organic Herbal Supplements Company Honors Three Decades of Cultivating Connections Between Plants and People

BREVARD, N.C. – March 6, 2017 – Gaia Herbs, North America's leading herbal brand, is celebrating three decades of cultivating health and well-being by stewarding sustainable relationships between plants and people. The company was founded in 1987 by Ric Scalzo, one of North America's most respected herbalists and botanical researchers, with a mission to create products deeply rooted in purity, integrity and potency.

Scalzo started the company with just seven elixirs made from fresh plant extracts — something that was completely new to the herbal market. Now, Gaia Herbs offers more than 200 patented Liquid Phyto-Caps®, liquid extracts, functional powders and herbal teas to help support and maintain optimal health. Originally based on a few acres in Harvard, Massachusetts, the Gaia Herbs farm relocated in 1996 to its current home, seated among the breathtaking foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains in Brevard, N.C., to accommodate rapid growth. Gaia's headquarters and sustainable organic farm are certified each year by Oregon Tilth, one of the most stringent U.S.D.A. organic certifiers in the nation. Today, Gaia Herbs stewards 350 acres of organic farmland, next to their state-of-the-art, 45,000-square-foot manufacturing facility.

"When I started Gaia, the concepts of wellness and self-care had not yet gained the attention that they have today," said Scalzo, the founder and CEO of Gaia Herbs. "As the natural products industry grew and reached the mainstream, consumers increasingly sought out brands that prioritized transparency and trust, like Gaia. Our commitment to quality — and proof of that quality — have set us apart and allowed us to thrive. My vision for Gaia was to steward the connection between people and plants, and we're honored to have upheld that for 30 years."

Gaia's dedication to transparency remains unparalleled via its MeetYourHerbs platform, the world's first and only herb traceability program that allows consumers to learn about and engage with their herbs. Through MeetYourHerbs, consumers can follow the life cycle of an ingredient from seed to shelf, and they can see proof of the methods to assure purity, potency and integrity of the herbs by entering the ID number on the back of any Gaia Herbs product.

Gaia also continues to be a passionate champion of environmental sustainability and spearheads multiple projects through GaiaCares, including an organic produce program and the use of biodiesel in all farm equipment.

Gaia Herbs products are sold through national and independently owned health food stores across the U.S. as well as through trusted online retail sites and GaiaHerbs.com.
