The House of Windsor is getting a lot of press this week with Prince William announcing his engagement to his girlfriend Kate Middleton (we admit, we cried a little bit). While we are biting our nails with the rest of the world in anticipation to see the royal event—particularly what the bride will be wearing (McQueen! McQueen! McQueen!), we've fallen in love with another "Windsor" that we can get our hands on right now! Jewelry designer Suzanna Dai has us fawning over her decadent Windsor pieces that are apart of her holiday '10 collection. Frost your neck and your ears with this chic winter bling ..we think they will make any girl feel like royalty.

Suzanna Dai Windsor Necklace $420, Suzanna Dai Drop Earrings $190. Available at Sucre, 357 Bleeker Street (at Charles Street); 212-3521640.
