STAR VODKA

Tested exclusively by women, Star Vodka is the first of the STAR BY CHARLES FERRI luxury alcoholic beverages to pair lifestyle with quality. Originating from handpicked corn harvested in the Midwest, the ultra premium vodka is then sent to a state-of-the-art micro distillery located in Oregon's scenic Cascade Mountains where it undergoes a five-time filtration process through organically cooled lava rock. This diligent process ensures Star Vodka has the smoothest and most sophisticated gluten free vodka obtainable. To find out where you can enjoy Star Vodka, please visit starvodkusa.com.

SUZANNA DAI

What girl doesn't dream of being draped in glittering jewels worthy of a buried treasure? Jewelry designer Suzie Gallegher understands the latent desire for luxury and her Spring/Summer 2011 collection for Suzanna Dai delivers on every level. Combining vintage elegance with a modern sensibility, Gallegher has created opulent pieces named after some of the world's most sought-after and exotic destinations. The Versailles button earrings and gunmetal Paris cuff are worthy of French royalty, while the embellished gold Tangiers necklace puts one in mind of arid deserts and the sparkling Mediterranean coast. Heading east, a couple of the embellished Mumbai bangles might add just the right amount of sparkle for exploring narrow Indian streets. If something should prevent you from jetting off to a fantastic locale this summer, at least Suzanna Dai provides the means to play a little make-believe. SuzannaDai.com

SILVER JEANS

Looking to buy into this spring's denim trend without breaking the bank? Silver Jeans has the answer with its must-have item for the season, the Gwen "Jeano," a utilitarian jean/cargo-pant hybrid. Fusing retro cool with modern style and a great fit, Silver Jeans' Gwen Jeano will keep you looking hot without putting your wallet on a diet. SilverJeans.com

G-STAR RAW

This is essential denim for addicts! The RAW Essentials capsule collection is denim executed with the finest detailing to create the top end of G-Star's denim offering. In entirety, the stand out collection mixes vintage influences with modern street style. For Spring/Summer 2011, a high level of tailoring has been incorporated into the collection. Sophisticated cross-hand stitching, punt stitching and hand crochet loops all add refinement to denim seams and edgings, while authentic trims in leather reference high-quality hat linings. Abrasion damage and holes are repaired with contrast materials, to create patchwork repair details (as displayed in the Hank Salopette style in the attached image). G-Star.com

GAIL SORRONDA

Gail Sorronda's Murmur Spring/Summer 2011 collection stays true to the designer's love of contrasts between texture and shape. However, this new collection takes a small step away from the monochromatic nature of previous collections by adding a bronze shade to the predominately black and white palette. Using the Murmur Headband or Murmur Skull Cap, Gail Sorronda often pairs delicate fabrics with unique, dark headpieces, making the designs seem straight out of an ominous fantasy film.
