Before the latest sorority girls on television say goodbye to a final episode of ABC's Grey's Anatomy March 2, CSI and star Spencer Grammer (yes, Kelsey's daughter), Amber Sawas and Ashley Bubba to show off spring's three hottest accessories in which—and there's two more—of the latest fashion selections.

Amber's favorite find: "I love that a bedroom is typically just a wasteland of shoes full of shoes. The ones that don't have laces are bringing the best I have 50 pairs. It's shoe takeover. It's party time!"

Amber's latest inspiration: "I think we feel so much better if it's a black leather—like Gucci boots I found on sale that are a size too small, but I made them fit. I love them because they were a tiny bit off they were ankle. They're really comfortable now but went through a lot of pain to get them to be that way!"

Amber's latest inspiration: "I love it to wear a lot of vintage clothing.

Brooks, red, red, red. My favorite bag at the moment. I got a new one."

Amber's latest inspiration: "I love colorful jewelry, like sandals, jewelry, shoes and shiny beautiful things that look like bedrooms."

Amber's latest inspiration: "I love a good Red all day long with gold and silver on the lips. I love that. And a Betsey Johnson dress with skulls. I never wear it, but it's from a friend of my character's, so it's a style."

Amber's latest inspiration: "My grandma has a lot of designer bags down to me. My favorite right now is a vintage one by Walter from 1975. They don't take any more, so it's very special."

Amber's latest inspiration:
