BOY MEETS TWIRL

A flirty chartreuse dress gets a bit of menswear-inspired structure when topped with a printed short-sleeved blazer. "I love the combination of a chunky men's jacket over lighter fabrics," says King. "The softness and femininity of the dress and scarf let you layer without looking bulky." Dress, Ali Ro, $288. Jacket, Charley 5.0, $80. Earrings, Paige Novick. Necklace, Suzanna Dai. Scarf, Captive Cashmere. Bracelet, Fantasy Jewelry Box. Cuff, Victoria Simes for Zero + Maria Cornejo. Rings, Nicholai by Nicky Hilton and Maurice. Clutch, Rebecca Minkoff.

ADAM SAYS

This era ushered in sleeveless styles, so if you like your arms, show them off. Blazers and kimono-sleeve tops offer chic coverage if you need it.

Fashion editor: Andrew Heiden. Hair: Rob Taft using Nioxin at themagnetagency.com. Makeup: Christy Coleman at The Wall Group. Prop stylist: Fl Campbell. Manicure: Lisa Postma for Celestineagency.com. Reported and written by Clarissa Cruz. For details see Shop Guide.

Stylish idea: Try vintage sporty looks, like this tennis-dress inspired style.

PIECE MAKERS

Signature '20s pieces—a feather boa, a slouchy top—are updated in an aqua and orange color scheme and Art Deco-meets-tribal accessories. A Jazz Age wavy bob and dramatic eyes complete the look. “The hair and makeup let you become a character, a different person in a beautiful way,” says King. Dress, Costello Tagliapietra, $1,295. Earrings, Suzanna Dol. Necklaces, C. Wonder, $60; Ralph Lauren Collection. Scarf, Target. Bracelet, Fantasy Jewelry Box.

This is not the time to go natural. Dark eyes, bright lips, and short hair with finger waves all look terrific with '20s fashion.

Stylish idea: Don't have short hair? Pull it back into a sleek ponytail or top with a cloche.
