- If we've mapped your ecu with a low and high elevation map, the low is always map 1 and the high elevation map is 2
- If you're installing an injector relocater race kit, Mark from Tokyo Off Road has created a great video of how to do this on his youtube channel. We recommend watching this prior to installation.
- If you're using a traction control knob you can switch to any TC level at any time in either map on the fly. You can also switch between maps on the fly as well.

If you have any questions at all don't hesitate to contact us.

Your brother in braaaaaaap,
