From the city that never sleeps to the city of lights.

What two better places in the world than New York & Paris to travel to this month for fashion week & inspiration? If I had to pick two cities in the world that are my favorite for style inspiration they would easily be New York & Paris. Just as I found myself in New York two weeks ago, I am now trotting around Paris wearing the new Elle Tahari for Kohl's Collection that continues to prove as being a very wearable and modern assortment from the designers forward thinking design.

Whether you live in a big city, or are hoping to embody the stylish persona of a city gal, be sure to check out: Elle Tahari for Design Nation, sold exclusively on Kohl's.

Elle Tahari for DesignNation Faux Fur Sweatshirt ($75) // Elle Tahari for DesignNation Textured Mid Skirt ($54) // Prada D'Orsay Heels (similar pair here) // Heyden Leather Bag ($69)
