Your Heavenly Printable Ring Sizer

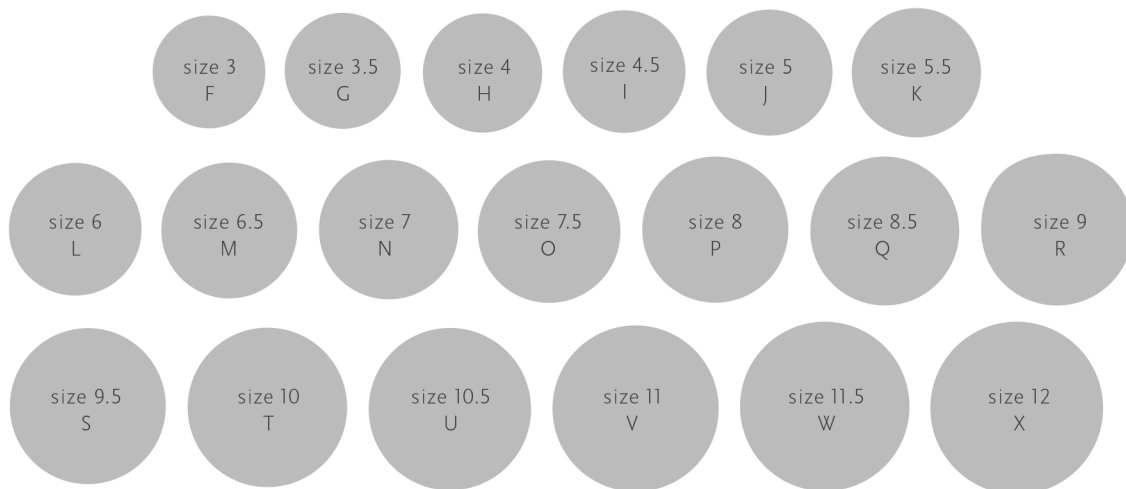

We know finding your ring size can be tricky, so we've created this handy guide to help you. Please note that these measurements are for UK ring sizes and although we hope this helps, we always recommend popping into your local high street jeweller to get the most accurate reading.

Before you start,

1. Please ensure your printer is set to print the page at 100% scale or that the scaling is set to 'none'. (You'll find this in the 'page set up')
2. Ensure you are printing on standard A4 sized paper. (210 x 297mm)
3. The ring sizer below should measure 160mm in length.

Measuring Your Ring

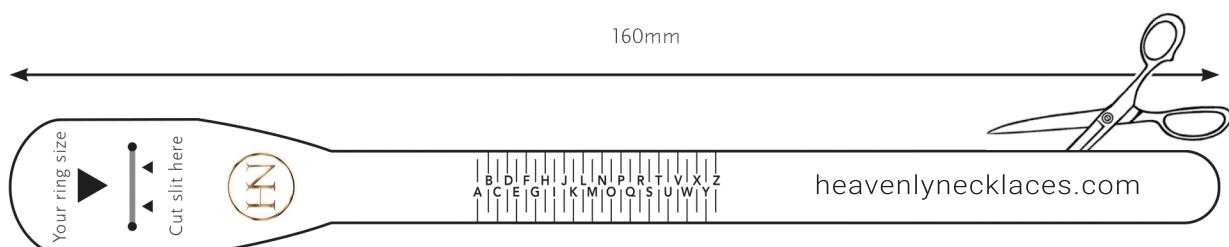

1. Take one of your existing rings that fits your desired finger.
 2. Place your ring over the circles below until the inside of the ring matches a specific circle.
 3. If your ring falls between two sizes, consider the width of the band.
- A wider band may require a slightly larger ring size.

Measuring Your Finger with the Ring Sizer

1. Print and cut out this ring sizer.
2. Measure its length and ensure it's 160mm.
3. Cut out the slit and pop the ring sizer through the slit to form a loop
4. Wrap the loop around your finger - the letter that is closest to the slit is your ring size.

Top Tips : Measure your finger at the end of the day when your hand is warm as cold, slim fingers will give an inaccurate reading.
