

Helping Hand Partners

PROMOTING PRODUCTS WITH PURPOSE

From gourmet foods and bath products to handcrafted jewelry and tech accessories, Helping Hand Partners offers unique, high-quality incentive, rewards and promotional products. Our products are produced by social enterprises here at home and fair trade organizations across the world that share a common goal—helping people improve their lives and become self-sufficient. Each social enterprise offers job opportunities and valuable social programming for at risk populations who are either disadvantaged, hard-to-hire, or developmentally and/or physically challenged.

We like to call what we do Green+™: offering companies opportunities to practice not only environmental sustainability but social sustainability, too. These solutions are great for companies that are looking to enhance their corporate social responsibility footprint.
