

Peerless-AV® Hosts Exhibition and Networking Event in London

Expo brings all the key players, media and industry groups together under one roof, in a long anticipated in-person event for the AV industry

Watford, UK, 22 June 2021 – AV technology pioneer Peerless-AV® is excited to announce that it will be hosting an AV exhibition and networking event on 16th September at Lord's Cricket Ground in London, an iconic venue where England won the World Cup in 2019. The in-person event concept received a hugely positive response among Peerless-AV partners after over a year of virtual meetings and collaboration. The event is anticipated to attract a mix of consultant, end user and reseller visitors from across the UK.

All the major AV and Digital Signage brands have signed up to take space at the exhibition, including Absen, Philips, Samsung, NEC, Kramer, Sony UK, Iiyama, Datapath, Hypervsn, Signagelive, Tripleplay and Matrox. The AV User Group, AV Magazine and AVIXA Women's Council UK will also be involved, with more details to follow.

“After a long time planning and deliberating, closely following the latest government announcements, we're very pleased that we can finally push ahead with our exhibition and networking event,” said Keith Dutch, Managing Director – EMEA, Peerless-AV. “For many AV professionals, ISE 2020 will have been the last time they had face-to-face interaction of this scale. I think I can speak for the majority in that, as restrictions ease, we're all eager to get back to live meetings, training sessions and presentations. This event will give partners the opportunity to showcase their latest innovations and technology at a convenient, central location, to an audience keen to find out what's new in the world of AV and Digital Signage."

Lord's Cricket Ground, the Home of Cricket, was chosen for its close proximity to the centre of London and convenient transport links. Register now to be part of this AV exhibition and networking event: <https://peerless-av-sept-event.eventbrite.co.uk>
