

ISE 2020 PREVIEW

Peerless-AV Shows Latest Indoor and Outdoor Technology at ISE 2020

Weatherproof TV, outdoor displays, indoor and outdoor kiosks, DvLED mounting solutions and more on Stand F90, Hall 12

Watford, UK, 4 February 2020 – AV technology pioneer Peerless-AV[®] will be showing an impressive mix of technology innovations in collaboration with its partners in Hall 12, Stand F90, at ISE 2020. In addition to SEAMLESS LED systems, Peerless-AV will be showing an outdoor TV at ISE for the first time, alongside outdoor displays, outdoor and indoor kiosk solutions, video wall mounts and many new must-see product concepts.

Visitors to the Peerless-AV stand will see the new UltraView™ UHD Outdoor TV (UV862), an all-season solution for outdoor entertainment and living. The entire range of Xtreme™ High Bright Outdoor Displays will also be shown. Complete immersion and dust tanks will demonstrate the unique fully sealed design and their resilience to water and dust ingress.

Also, in the outdoor area, visitors will see a 24/7 Smart City Kiosk along with a custom design outdoor totem, highlighting Peerless-AV's standard products as well as the possibilities offered by their bespoke design service. The same applies to the indoor kiosk selection which sees a standard back-to-back model alongside another custom solution.

SEAMLESS LED highlights include a wave ticker tape, curved floor to ceiling video wall and an in-window video wall on a track system. Peerless-AV's expert team will be at hand to offer technical advice and recommendations for specific project or application requirements.

In addition, the new mobile trolley and rotational mount for the 65" Samsung FLIP will be on the stand, along with a floor-to-ceiling version of the Extrusion modular series for the video conferencing market, and a versatile pillar mount ideal for attaching LFD or stretch displays to a range of circular column sizes.

See all these products, and more, in action on stand F90, Hall 12. To make an appointment or to book a booth tour contact marketing@peerless-av.eu.com.
