5 Unique Beaches to Visit this Summer

When you think of the beaches, what comes to your mind are palm trees, sunny sides with waves crashing to the shore, relaxing time and water activities. Well, there's a lot more to God's creation where you'll find hot springs to make you feel relaxed just where you're lying down as well as beaches where you get to witness both sunrise and sunset from the same place.

There are two kinds of personalities- mountain lovers and beach freaks. While the former personalities love to trek and spend time in the wildernesses, the beach lovers are the ones who love to soak up some sun and indulge in water activities. The latter ones head to these travel destinations for their much-awaited summer break.

With a list of 5 unique beaches that you can plan your trip for this summer, the magazine would lay down what kind of men's swimwear you must wear to get the desired attention and also enjoy the best of the time spent there.

The Red Beach- Santorini, Greece

Definitely one of the most beautiful and popular beaches in the world, The Red Beach is situated close to the village of Akrotiri. Being so popular, you might find the rocky beach to be crowded in the summer times. The place gets so crowded sometimes that people coming in later prefer to stay up on the mountainous rocks rather than coming down to the beach. The vast landscape is a result of volcanic eruptions.

The basic idea of heading toward this beach is that you'd be mesmerized by the huge cliffs. The color comes from the red lava rock of the cliffs nearby. With restaurants at the entrance, you must try them because they're cut into the cliff. If you really like hiking, this is one place that'll give the best of both worlds (mountains and beach). The brilliant blue of the Aegean Sea contrasting with the vibrant red of the towering cliffs will leave you feeling like it was more than worth your while.

Best for relaxing and sightseeing, you can wear men's board short swimwear that features lengthy coverage and a comfortable fit on the body to let you move around.

The style provides ample support on the manhood and also features a functional drawstring to let you adjust the fit.

Blue Lagoon, Yasawa Islands, Fiji

If you are looking for a blissful time on a string of beaches in a row, the Yasawa Island off the coast of Fiji is where you must head to. Towards the northern tip of the Yasawa chain is Blue Lagoon, a beach resort that comes with shallow, warm waters and a close relationship to the local culture. If you visit here, you'll be up for boat rides to the location where some movies were shot.

One of the most popular places to visit, you can spend some quiet time here getting tanned and sipping on some exotic drinks that are served there.

To maintain the right support, coverage and sex appeal, you can opt for men's swim bikinis that provide the best of everything. When you desire to show off the trendy designs and right coverage, you can slip into the Intymen Floral Swim Bikini that features masculine fit with the peppy floral print from the sides of the pouch to the entire back. Not only this, you'd also find butterflies-print on the underwear to cheer you up.

South Beach, Miami, USA

When you feel like being fashionable and want to feel the world-class spot for grabbing attention, the South Beach situated in Miami, Florida is what that must come to your mind. Though there are numerous options in Florida which deserve to be there on the list, but there's something special about South Beach. You might spot some famous celebrities with their dogs that wear sunglasses parading or even relaxing in the sun.

When it comes to spending quality time at a place where you'll have celebrities, looking fashionable is not just an option, but is absolutely mandatory.

Cover Male Rainbow Cheetah Swim Bikini is what comes across as a piece that looks sleek, sexy and very appealing to the eyes. You might score some eyeballs while doing what you want to do at the beach with the masculine pair that features a solid design and a rainbow colored Cheetah print on the waistband.

Hot Water Beach, Coromandel-New Zealand

If you really want to hit for a memorable trip of them all, one of the most unusual places to pack for is the Hot Water Beach in New Zealand. If relaxing on the hammock is on your mind while enjoying the hot water that filters beneath the sand during the low tide, this is the right spot for the vacation. Instead of swinging on the hammock, you can lie down in the hot water on the edge of the ocean and nothing can be a better experience than that. It is like your personal sauna.

Though you might find it crowded, but if you are heading on a weekday, you'd find a spot for yourself. With the hope of having the adventure of your lifetime, this beach inspires you to go someplace new, someplace different and to discover some unusual places on your own!

Male thongs are a great idea if you really are interested in getting tanned whereas; swim boxers to cover what needs to be covered and gives you a form fit. The Good Devil Ocean Sunset Swim Boxer is worth slipping. With the drawstring to easily adjust the fit on the waistline, the short length, and solid design is what makes it handsome.

Baga Beach- Goa, India

If water sports, lively parties and lips smacking eateries is on your mind, Baga Beach, Goa is where you must head to. Popular for its nightlife and the sumptuous seafood offered at the shacks, the variety of activities available at the beach will make your vacation a lot more happening. In case you weren't aware, the National Wind Surfing Championship is held at Baga Beach every year between September and November. So, if you are a true adventure junkie and love water sports, you know when to explore this beautiful beach of Goa.

Some sports that you must try when you spend time at Baga Beach are parasailing, Banana ride and more. Dolphin Cruise is another sport that you can opt for and you might be lucky to see some Dolphins at an arm distance or even up close. What do you think?

Marcuse Low Riding Swimwear is a commendable style that lets you feel supported in the front as well as cover what needs to be covered. Meant for men who like to stay conventional in terms of cuts and also look for trendy designs to stay updated with fashion.
