

OUTSIDE THE ZONE

Eleanor Barreau

Fried eggs?

Oil and acrylic paint on canvas
100 x 70cm
£2500

Eleanour's work comprises many elements, spanning a mixture of sources co-existing into a single image. Her compositions are uncanny at points filled with deliberate whimsy and thoughtful interventions evolved into an almost focused and unachievable illusion. Her fixation on female aesthetics and the extent to which beautiful women, and men, still dominate advertising imagery makes these paintings interesting and a great focus for debate.
