

Perennials® Turns Up the Texture with Spring Rug Collection

CISION PR Newswire March 9, 2018

New additions highlight soft hues and textural elements

DALLAS, March 9, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Perennials Rugs®, a leader in the international design industry and the preeminent provider of luxury performance textiles and accessories, has released a new Spring 2018 collection of 100% solution-dyed acrylic Tibetan Knot and Drop Stitch rugs inspired by earthy tones and contrasting textures. The spring additions include five handwoven patterns: Line Item, Circuit Breaker, First Impressions, Shadow Play, and It's a Wash.

Line Item is a Drop Stitch rug designed to complement any room, with a subtle textural stripe pattern. The Drop Stitch low pile height makes Line Item suitable to sit underneath any furnishing. The soon-to-be favorite is available in four neutral colorways including Nickel, Linen, Spearmint, and Rhino. Shadow Play features an ikat diamond pattern that adds a graphic twist to any interior or exterior space. The attention-grabbing rug is available in three colorways – Rhino, Vintage Blue, and Dirty Martini - the brand's new Spring 2018 olive colorway.

Symmetric design takes center stage with Circuit Breaker's repeating linear pattern, available in both the Tibetan Knot and Drop Stitch handwoven constructions. The visually striking pattern offers movement and intrigue, perfect for large living areas and entertaining spaces.

Echoing the theme of Perennials Fabrics' 2018 spring collection, Natural Selection, Perennials Rugs' spring introductions emphasize the appeal of classic tones and textures. First Impressions and It's a Wash are Tibetan Knot rugs rounding out these all-purpose styles. First Impressions combines the brand's resilient performance properties with a rustic pattern reminiscent of cobblestone paths. In addition to the tone-on-tone Rhino colorway, First Impression's unique pattern is especially animated in the contrasting Flannel colorway. It's a Wash is an abstract design that plays with muted tones to form an eroded pattern. The atmospheric style is available in Cinders and Haze colorways.

"For Spring 2018, we are introducing new styles that play with texture and pile," says Ann Sutherland, president of Perennials and Sutherland, LLC.
