

The Washington Post

AJC.com

PalmBeachPost.com

houzz

Like elsewhere in the home, the dining room furniture is a mix of genres: A traditional dining table joins contemporary leather chairs. The chandelier, a vintage French find, nods to the living room's origami-patterned sofa pillows.

Light-colored linen draperies provide contrast to the dark trim and bespoke plaster walls. Although subtle, the drapery fabric features a jacquard-woven ikat pattern and adds an extra scoop of opulence.

Dining chairs: custom design, Mann Designs, covered in leather by GH Leather; baseboard paint: Kendall Charcoal HC-166, Benjamin Moore; door and window trim paint: Anubis, Pratt & Lambert; drapery fabric: Acacia, Jim Thompson Fabrics; area rug: Shiir, through David Sutherland